Safe Journalists, Strong Democracies: How on and offline attacks on women journalists are hurting us all.

Twitter #JournoSafe #EndImpunity #CSW62

CONCEPT OF EVENT

The safety of women journalists has risen to become one of the pre-eminent issues for journalism in our digital era. During CSW, UNESCO will highlight and promote action on the safety of women journalists through a side event supported by The Netherlands and Sweden. Safe Journalists, Strong Democracies: How on and offline attacks on women journalists are hurting us all will discuss the many ways women journalists can be placed in vulnerable settings, both in the workplace, in the field and online, leaving them open to all kinds of harassment, intimidation and violence. Under the framework of the UN Plan of Action on the Safety of Journalists and Issue of Impunity, panelists will share their first hand experiences of these threats and the consequences these actions have on the fundamental role that the press plays in strengthening democratic societies.

After discussions by panelists and the audience, the moderator will invite rapporteurs from all other CSW journalists’ safety side events and NGO events to provide a short report of their proceedings to better inform UNESCO on future advocacy issues developing from CSW around the UN Plan of Action.

Short opening remarks, Sweden.

Panelists:

1. Ms Alison Smale, Under-Secretary-General for Global Communications, Department of Public Information, UN and former journalist with the New York Times
2. Ms Maria Ressa, CEO and executive Director of Rappler. Featured in UNESCO publication Chapter 8 in An Attack on One is An Attack on All (Philippines)
3. Ms Jennifer Clement, President of PEN International, (Mexico)
4. Ms Abeer Sa’ady, War correspondent and media trainer, Vice President of International Association of Women in Radio and Television (IAWRT) (Egypt)
5. Mr Matthew Caruana Galizia, Pulitzer prize-winning journalist (Malta)
6. Mr Guy Berger, Director of Freedom of Expression and Media Development, UNESCO.
The event is supported by Sweden and The Netherlands.

Capacity 120 persons

To Register, click here

General Inquiries:
Contact Ms Alison Meston a.meston@unesco.org